Title of the painting: “Burning Phoenix”

As the city burns down and people fight to save their homes and families. A person has given up on everything and is running away to save himself.

Many people died and their houses burned down but those who survived remained hopeful.

Title of the painting: “Secrets”

Our painting is named “Secrets”. We wanted to paint something that reflects the intimacy of everyone. In our painting you can see two women whispering about something. That “something” is the core and the heart of our painting and its origin is kept secret, just like the title of our creation. We used light colours to portray the outside look of every single man or women who are telling secrets, although we have no idea how dark the secret itself is.

Title of the painting: “Two seconds beyond the shadow”

This painting portrays a girl who wants to be happy, but she is in the hospital. Because of this, she imagines the hospital is like a prison and she can't escape. Despite her disease, she didn't lose her smile. There's a very bright contrast between her smile and the rest of the photo. We want to increase the hope in every person. If you are positive, maybe your sadness could be erased from your heart.

Title of the painting: “Women's Freedom”

While some women are free, others are not. Women's freedom is the most important thing in our society. The divine spirit releases the body and the mind of responsibilities. Lightning frees the woman from her restraints. The WOMAN has the POWER.

Title of the painting: “Psychosis”

The picture represent the darkness that changes the human nature. Every chain represent one of the things that a person must face: Pain, Fear, Loneliness, Sadness, Envy, Hate. The broken chains represent the problems that the person surpassed and the scars that remains after and that make him stronger.

The black shadow that is in the corner represent the person who is losing his/her personality and form because he/she lacks confidence and individuality, thus loosing the battle with life.
